Course Description:

Robert Rugh, Director of Crow Language Operations at The Language Conservancy, will introduce the beta form of the interactive Ammiláau Crow Language eLearning platform for adaptation into the K-12 classroom. The eLearning platform is intended to supplement classroom instruction for Crow language teachers and students, or for independent study. The first year beta version includes Levels 1 and 2 textbook vocabulary, conversational lessons, and interactive exercises. There will be the opportunity for each participant to individually use, practice and model both the learner interface and the teacher's portal and to also provide valuable input and feedback to adapt the platform for the Crow language classroom.

Cultural Relevancy Activity:

All language classes are inscribed in a cultural context, since language, by its nature, reflects and shapes the culture that it expresses.

Technology Component:

Laptops, projection onto large monitors or smartboard. As needed, students will have access to computer labs on campus.

Teaching Methods:

Workshop

INFORMATION REGARDING CANCELLATION OF CLASS: Cancellation of class will be aired on local radio stations and sent through the LBHC alert system.

ACADEMIC DISHONESTY:

Students are responsible for doing and submitting their own work. Academic dishonesty, in any form, is inconsistent with an academic community which operates on the basis of honesty, integrity, and fair play. Verifiable instances of academic dishonesty may result in a zero on the assignment, the reduction of the final letter grade, or other College action appropriate to the act. Such actions may include dismissal, which is a suspension from LBHC for a specific period of time, or expulsion from LBHC, which carries no expectation of return at a later date. If questions arise, students are encouraged to consult with the instructor.

Student Attendance Policy: Students are expected to be present in the class, during the class time period, every day. Students should plan on arriving on time everyday. Students should try their best to arrive no later than 10 minutes into the class period.

Students with Disabilities: We value you as a person and want you to succeed in your academic endeavors. If you have a physical, psychiatric/emotional, medical, or learning disability that may impact your ability to carry out assigned course work, please contact either the Academic Counselor or Vocational Counselor to determine, with you, what accommodations are necessary and appropriate. All information and documentation of disability is confidential.
